

PLANET XXI PRIVACY POLICY

PLANETXXI, LLC is a company dedicated to exploring teens' and young adults' ideas about the future and creating a community where those ideas can be shared and expanded upon to envision a better future for PLANETXXI and ultimately our own planet. PLANETXXI is a place of positivity and offers teens and young adults a platform to show and express their creativity and concerns for their future. Our privacy policy describes the personal information we collect about visitors to our website, www.planetxxi.com, and what we do with that information. You can use the website without providing personal information.

As explained below, we may change our privacy policy from time to time and your continued use of our website and social media sites will indicate your consent to such changes. Please check periodically for updates to this policy.

We do not knowingly ask for or collect personal information from children under 13. We also do not knowingly collect personal information from people living outside the U.S. If you believe we have collected information from a child under the age of 13 or from a non-U.S. resident, please contact us using the email, mail or phone number below.

A parent or guardian of a child under 13 who may be interested in our content, may sign up and receive communications from PLANETXXI to share with their child.

The Information We Collect And How We Use It

Personal Information Provided By Users

Visitors are free to navigate our website without providing us with any personal information. If you want to sign up as PLANETXXI CyberCity Cybernaut, participate in programs or Zooms (or call using similar video-conferencing technology) that we organize, or upload content, we will ask you to provide us with your first name, email, month and year you were born and the city, state or country where you're living. We may also ask about areas you may be interested in or ideas that you have.

We will use that information to contact you with information about our programs, track what you have uploaded or submitted to us for review and possible uploading, and to communicate general information in relation to the PLANETXXI community and specific information we think would be of particular interest to you. We will also use it to respond to any specific questions or requests for information or inquiries about us and what personal information of yours we may have collected.

We will also use your information to comply with all laws and regulations and to respond to any requests from law enforcement. And we may use your information as we deem necessary to investigate any suspected violation of our terms and conditions or breaches of our networks or security, or those of our third party providers.

We may periodically review our email list and remove personal information and any content that may have been uploaded related to users who are no longer active or whose contact information is outdated. You can also ask to be removed from our mailing list and from receiving other communications by contacting us using the email, mail or phone number below.

Log Files and Cookies That Collect Information Anonymously

Like many websites, we gather information automatically. We use log files (e.g. web beacons, pixel tags, geo locators) and cookies that gather information, including the Internet domain from which a visitor accesses our website; the date and time the website was visited; the country and city of the visitor viewing the website; the areas/pages of website that were viewed; a visitor's IP address that is automatically assigned when logging on to the Internet; the type of browser and operating system you are using; the address of the website you may have linked from, if any; and the search term you used if you landed on the website after a general search.

Our website is hosted by Web.com which has access to aggregated information about to our website in order for Web.com to analyze performance and make improvements to Web.com products; this includes administering the website, analyzing how visitors navigate the website and improving visitors' experience when using the website. This aggregated information is anonymized and is not personally identifiable to you. The information is stored on servers in the United States that parties we contract with maintain.

Tracking Options and Do Not Track Disclosures

You can block cookies by setting your Internet browser to stop accepting new cookies, to receive notice when a new cookie is received, to disable existing cookies, and to omit images (which will disable pixel tags). More detailed information about cookie management with specific web browsers can be found at the browsers' respective websites. Blocking or disabling cookies may affect the functionality of the website. The website may not respond to Do Not Track requests or headers from some or all browsers.

Links To Other Websites

We may include links on our website to websites that are not affiliated with PLANETXXI. The links are solely for your information and we have no responsibility for the content or information collection policies of those sites. The website also contains links to PLANETXXI's social media accounts, including Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn. These websites have their own privacy policies and PLANETXXI's privacy policy does not apply to, and PLANETXXI cannot control, the activities of third parties or other websites.

Sharing Your Information

We do not sell your information or share it with others, except for companies that we have partnered with, or may partner with, to provide specific content or programs that we believe will help increase our community's understanding of issues that are important to PLANETXXI and our planet or how to solve many of problems our planet currently faces. These third parties are required to agree to comply with our privacy policy before we will share your information. They are also listed on our website.

Content you post or otherwise make available to us through any means, including through the website or in forums that we organize, may be shared with others and made available to all visitors to the website to view and download. We do not place restrictions on how others can use your content and our terms and conditions provide that we are also free to use, further disseminate, modify or combine your content in to other content or information in any media, and otherwise use it without restriction, attribution or payment to you. If you do not want content you post to be available for public dissemination and viewing, or use or modification or alteration by others, you should not share or post it. You are under no obligation to share or post content or other information and can visit the website and participate in PLANETXXI programs in most cases without doing so.

Making Connections In The Community

We encourage collaboration in our organized forums, and do not enable through our website communication with people on the web that you do not know. To keep our community safe, we ask that you not provide any of your personal information or contact information to other members of the community. Our community is built on a foundation of respect for each other and all communications exchanged on our website must be civil and reflect an understanding that others are entitled to hold differing points of view. We reserve the right to terminate anyone's access to the website if we believe their posts or use of the website are not consistent with this.

Online Privacy Policy Only

This Privacy Policy applies only to the website and the information collected, shared and exchanged there. This Policy does not apply to any information collected offline or via channels other than this website.
